NLCS Jeju seeks a Teacher of Computer Science

The Teacher of Computer Science position includes responsibility for the planning and delivery of engaging and rigorous lessons across Key Stage 2 (Years 5/6) and Key Stage 3 (Years 7, 8, 9), with opportunities to teach IGCSE and IBDP Computer Science lessons. Experience teaching IBDP Computer Science and a strong interest in Robotics is highly desirable. Successful candidates will join a dynamic department of four teachers within an ever-popular and expanding provision, ensuring students receive a cutting-edge computer science education. This role also involves the potential for Form Tutor responsibilities and active participation in our extensive extra-curricular and co-curricular programmes, particularly within Robotics and related fields, to foster innovation and scholarship. The role necessitates clear and effective communication with students, parents, and staff, and requires collaborative efforts with colleagues both within and beyond the department to create a challenging, supportive, and stimulating learning environment.

NLCS (UK)

North London Collegiate School (UK) was founded in 1850 by Frances Mary Buss; her aim was to offer an academically ambitious education to girls, similar to that available to their brothers. The School has pioneered women's education for 175 years and remains among the highest achieving schools in the UK. Exam results regularly top the UK league tables and the School has repeatedly outperformed other prestigious schools in terms of Oxbridge success.

Unlike many UK independent schools, NLCS has a firm commitment to ensuring close links with its overseas branch schools. Every effort is made to replicate the ethos and standards. Wherever possible, staff for overseas schools are interviewed by members of the International Team based at the London school, as well as staff from our overseas schools. Where possible, teachers, once appointed, are invited to travel to London for induction and training at the UK school and this is generously funded by our partners.

Once an overseas branch is open, it undergoes quality assurance visits by the International team, and close links are formed through family of school events, exchanges, joint projects and educational visits.

As the NLCS family expands, it is hoped that partnerships will develop further so that each school develops links with the others. We also hope to see staff join the group in order to build their career with us and benefit from the many professional development and career-progression opportunities, which a group of world-class schools such as ours can offer.

INTERNATIONAL SCHOOLS

In 2011, NLCS opened its first international branch school in South Korea: NLCS Jeju. NLCS Jeju is a co-educational day and boarding school, and offers the IB Diploma to all students in the Sixth Form, and has achieved outstanding results since its first cohort graduating in 2014. The School's alumnae continue on to top universities around the world, including destinations in the UK, USA, Australia and Asia.

In September 2017, NLCS opened its second branch school in the UAE: NLCS Dubai. The School is a co-educational, day school, following the IB Continuum, with students undertaking the IB Diploma in their final year.

NLCS Singapore opened in August 2020. This is NLCS' third branch school. The School is a co-education day school in the heart of Singapore.

In September 2025 NLCS Kobe will open in Japan.

NLCS JEJU

North London Collegiate School Jeju is a leading International school providing an exceptional education experience for day and boarding students aged 4-18. The first international school to be opened in the vibrant Global Education City on the spectacular South Korean Island of Jeju, NLCS Jeju has rapidly established itself as a centre of educational excellence in South East Asia.

Last year our average points score was 37.2 points and 2 students achieving the perfect score of 45 as well as 32% of students achieving 40+points .

THE ETHOS

Every effort is made to recreate the ethos of the UK 'parent' school at NLCS Jeju, whilst taking into account and remaining sensitive to the local culture and context.

The School aims to provide a first-rate ambitious academic education for every child, which inspires a life-long love of learning and gives the knowledge, attitudes and confidence to flourish.

LIFE IN JEJU

Jeju Island, 130km off the southern coast of the Korean peninsula, is often described as one of Asia's best-kept secrets. Jeju's temperate climate, natural scenery and beaches make it a popular tourist destination for South Koreans as well as visitors from other parts of East Asia.

In 2007, UNESCO's World Heritage Committee listed Jeju Volcanic Island and Lava Tubes as a World Natural Heritage site. The island also possesses outstanding geological features and special properties as a habitat for a variety of rare and endangered species.

Jeju provides NLCS staff and their families with a safe, peaceful and breath-taking environment in which to live. The employment pages on the NLCS Jeju website contain further practical information about life in Jeju.
